'Science of God' is based on collective experiences

Lent is a 40-day journey (not including Sunday) when we are highly encouraged to participate in spiritual disciplines that equip us to grow deeper in our understanding and experience of God. It is a time of challenge and of encouragement to both think theologically and to put that theology into practice. As we begin this season, I offer this perspective from The Joyful Christian by C.S. Lewis.

"Everyone has warned me not to tell you what I am going to tell you... They all say 'the ordinary reader does not want Theology; give him plain practical religion.' I have rejected their advice. I do not think the ordinary reader is such a fool. Theology means 'the science of God,' and I think any man who wants to think about God at all would like to have the clearest and most accurate ideas about him which are available. You are not children: why should you be treated like children?"

"In a way, I quite understand why some people are put off by Theology. I remember once when I had been giving a talk to the R.A.F., an old, hard-bitten officer got up and said, 'I've no use for all that stuff. But, mind you, I'm a religious man too. I know there's a God. I've felt him: out alone in the desert at night: the tremendous mystery. And that's just why I don't believe all your neat little dogmas and formulas about him. To anyone who's met the real thing they all seem so petty and pedantic and unreal!'

"Now in a sense I quite agreed with that man. I think he had probably a real experience of God in the desert. And when he turned from that experience to the Christian creeds, I think he really was turning from something real, to something less real. In the same way, if a man has once looked at the Atlantic from the beach, and then goes and looks at a map of the Atlantic, he also will be turning from real waves to a bit of colored paper. But here comes the point. The map is admittedly only

Introductory class returns March 19

Another round of this class kicks off Sunday, March 19.

This four-week study is open to our entire church, designed as an interactive way to learn a lot about who we are as United Methodists. It includes a little of our history, doctrine, theology, and membership vows. This is designed for anyone who would like to join the membership of Wesley United Methodist Church and everyone who would like to learn a little more about our denomination. This study will be held at 3 p.m. Sundays, starting March 19. For any who desire to join our church, we will receive new members

Easter Sunday, April 16.

There is no cost to participate; call or email Pastor Wesley if you would like to participate, so we have enough materials.

Spring Lay Academy

The DeKalb District will not be hosting a Spring Lay Academy, so the Rockford District has invited you to join theirs.

Thank You

This is a very belated thank you to everyone who donated paper goods, coffee, creamer, syrup, and more to Loaves and Fishes at Christmastime. I took four big boxes, plus several other items over to them. They are most appreciative.

Loaves and Fishes served more than 23,500 meals last year, so the items will be put to good use!

When we moved to Sterling in 2002, our grandson, Joe Kennedy, then 3, and Helen had each just finished cancer treatments--surgeries and chemotherapy and radiation. It was a very uncertain time for all of us, especially our granddaughter, Brigid, who had to change school in the middle of kindergarten. In your fellowship, though, we immediately found a community of love and support. And softball.

With your help, we got through. Thank you for being there for us, when I was still such a young man of 65. And thank you for all the cards and good wishes and fun memories you sent me for this birthday, the one that proves the truism that a man must grow old, but he doesn't have to grow up.

Did You Know?

Did you know that there were actually two predecessors to the present day Wesley United Methodist Church, constructed July 13, 1975? The "new" Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal Church was dedicated April 5, 1905. Before that, the old church was built in 1871. Both churches were on the same site at the corner of Avenue A and Fourth Street.

You are invited to join a subcommittee (or two) to assist in planning these activities. Please contact Renee Duncan at 815-535-3058 to join a group, or if you have any questions.

colored paper, but there are two things you have to remember about it. In the first place, it is based on what hundreds and thousands of people have found out by sailing the real Atlantic. In that way it has behind it masses of experience just as real as the one you could have from the beach; only, while yours would be a single isolated glimpse, the map fits all those different experiences together. In the second place, if you want to go anywhere, the map is absolutely necessary. As long as you are content with walks on the beach, your own glimpses are far more fun than looking at a map. But the map is going to be more use than walks on the beach if you want to get to America.

"Now Theology is like the map. Merely learning and thinking about the Christian doctrines, if you stop there, is less real and less exciting than the sort of thing my friend got in the desert. Doctrines are not God: they are only a kind of map. But the map is based on the experience of hundreds of people who really were in touch with God – experiences compared with which any thrills or pious feelings you or I are likely to get on our own way are very elementary and very confused. And secondly, if you want to get any further, you must use the map. You see, what happened to that man in the desert may have been real, and was certainly exciting, but nothing comes of it. It leads nowhere. There is nothing to do about it. In fact, that is just why a vague religion – all about feeling God in nature, and so on – is so attractive. It is all about thrills and no work; like watching the waves from the beach. But you will not get to Newfoundland by studying the Atlantic that way, and you will not get eternal life by simply feeling the presence of God in flowers or music. Neither will you get anywhere by looking at maps without going to sea. Nor will you be very safe if you go to sea without a map."

Food for thought,
Pastor Wesley

- Toilet paper for the Trinity Pantry, Rock Falls UMC

Personal Care Pantry, and the FISH Food Pantry.

- Travel-sized toiletries for the Trinity and FISH pantries.

Items may be placed in the baskets and boxes on the missions table outside the sanctuary.

Challand Challenge for PADS

Challand Middle School has placed an emphasis on community service and outreach. As part of that, and in light of the recent article in the newspaper about the needs of the local homeless shelter, the school is doing a "Your Change Can Make a Change." Students are encouraged to collect their spare change for PADS Homeless Shelter.

The school has asked local churches to consider making matching donations to encourage the students to raise more money. Wesley United Methodist Church has chosen to adopt this mission for March.

The students raised $1,042, and we would like to try to match that.

Loose coins this month will go toward the challenge; any donations marked for PADS also will go toward the challenge.

Please give generously. Thank you!
